The One Piece Caravan and RV Flooring Solution

Proudly brought to you by

The EzyFloor Difference

Improved Installation Times

- The one-piece flooring system streamlines the manufacturing process, improving the rate of production

Improved Quality and Customer Satisfaction

- Elimination of joint movement between single sheets
- No lifting, bubbling or tearing of floor coverings
- Less squeaking and sagging
- No exposed joints, improving waterproofing
- Achieve increased customer satisfaction and fewer warranty claims

Reduced Costs and Waste

- Reduced warranty costs
- Better utilisation of labour and material
- Reduced wastage disposal costs due to less offcuts
- Reduced administrative time
- Less financing and holding costs
- Reduced tool time and tool repair costs

Custom Cut to Size and Coated

- Each floor can be cut to your requirements, including wheel arches, and coated with Worthington's black water resistant coating to further reduce labour time and streamline the manufacturing process

On Time, Every Time

- We utilise an efficient production scheduling system and in-house delivery service so you receive your order on time, every time

Material Structurally Graded and Stamped

- The plywood used in the Premium floor is structurally graded to AS/NZS 2269 and stamped and overseen by the EWPPA (Engineered Wood Products Association of Australasia) with all participating mills rigorously checked under the JAS-ANZ product certification scheme. JAS-ANZ is a third party audited body accredited quality control and product certification program to ensure compliance with the nominated standard

Less Handling and Storage

- Just-in-time production and delivery reduces handling and storage costs and facilitates better floor utilisation

Weight Reduction

- The EzyFloor may provide superior bracing strength. This could lead to a re-design of the chassis resulting in a less bulky, lighter and more cost effective chassis frame

Australian Made

- The EzyFloor is manufactured by an Australian owned and operated company
